

Quotes by Gandhi on Self-Realization

“The earth has enough resources for our need, but not for our greed.”

Yajna is duty to be performed, or service to be rendered, all twenty-four hours of the day. MM-2298

Yajna having come to us with our birth, we are debtors all our lives, and thus for ever bound to serve the universe. MOG-19

Woman is the incarnation of ahimsa. (Ahimsa means infinite love, which again means infinite capacity for suffering.) T-5-227

Woman is more fitted than man to make explorations and take bolder action in ahimsa. MM-294

Love, otherwise ahimsa, sustains this planet of ours. MM-127

I believe in advaita, I believe in the essential unity of man and for that matter of all that lives. XXV-390

We are all leaves of a majestic tree whose trunk cannot be shaken off its roots, which are deep down in the bowels of earth. T-7-169

Life is an aspiration. Its mission to strive after perfection which is self-realization. T-4-33

There is no other way of self-realization except the way of complete self-abandonment. XXVI-350

This self-realization is the subject of the Gita, as it is to all scriptures. TIG-98

To find Truth completely is to realize oneself and one's destiny, i.e. to become perfect. TIG-3

What I want to achieve, what I have been striving and pining for these thirty years, is self-realization, that is, to see God face to face. T-2-217

The object of the Gita appears to me to be that of showing the most excellent way to attain self-realization. MOG-4
