*"I say! murmured Horton. "I've never heard tell
Of a small speck of dust that was able to yell.
So you know what I think?... Why, I think that there must Be someone on top of that small speck of dust!"*

The Logos of God has become human so that you might learn from a human being how a human being may become divine.

The day will come when, after harnessing space, the winds, the tides, and gravitation, we shall harness for God the energies of love. And on that day, for the second time in the history of the world, we shall have discovered fire.

— Pierre Teilhard de Chardin

Creator God,
Let your love pour through us like a great river.
Soaking the dry, withered, parched places within.
Filling us to overflowing
that we, in touching one,
touching another,
another —
another...
Will bring that life-giving love
full circle
to cover the face of the earth.

—June Rohde

The earth does not belong to man; man belongs to the earth....All things are connected like the blood which unites one family.... Man does not weave the web of life, he is merely a strand in it. What he does to the web he does to himself.

Our children need to learn gardening. The reasons for this reach deep into their mental and emotional as well as into their physical survival. Gardening is an active participation in the deepest mysteries of the universe.
